

Hello to all the pupils of Neatishead, Salhouse and Fleggburgh!

I do hope you are all safe and well and getting used to doing things differently. The schools are very quiet but also very clean and tidy!

At Salhouse, all the trainers have stayed in the flower pots all week. There is a clear corridor which has made me and Mr Ward very happy!

At Fleggburgh, the sun has been shining and the daffodils and spring flowers look beautiful.

Neatishead has been closed so things are exactly where you left them.

What are your parents like as teachers? I have no doubt they will be brilliant. Make sure you keep up with your learning. Easter holidays start at the end of next week when you can take a break from school work and dream of chocolate.

Your teachers, classroom assistants and all the other adults who work at school have been busy. They are going to be more organised than ever before when we get back to school so, look out!

On April 1st our three schools are officially federated. This will be our new school logo.

It combines each school's original logo, Salhouse's wherry, Neatishead's swallowtail and Fleggburgh's dragon. It has a watery theme as all three schools are close to the Broads. Maybe you could write and send me a story inspired by the new logo. Your parents have my email address.

Tell your mums and dads that there is no need to worry about buying new uniform as I want you to wear the uniform you have until you grow out of it or until it wears out.

I will send you a letter like this each week to keep in touch and I will add ten ideas or challenges to have a go at home. Here are the first ten:

1. Reading is the most important thing to do when you are at home. Read to yourself, read to each other, read to the cat and dog! Read in the most unusual places you can find in the house and garden too.
2. Choose a book to read together then get all the family to act out the story giving yourself the main part.
3. See how many times you can use these three words in conversation: ample, blossoming and competent.
4. Wiggle your ears without moving any other part of your face. Now try your nose.
5. Give your parents a maths test ( but you will have to know the answers yourself).
6. Learn Morse code as a way of communicating with each other

7. Find and count all the loose change in your house. (if there is any!)
8. How wide is your smile, can you make it wider? Who has the widest smile in your house? It might be the rabbit...
9. Style a hat from a towel (without cutting it up).
10. Make a drum kit from saucepans (get permission first) and drum along to your favourite song.

Well that's it for now.

Take good care of yourselves and each other.

Mrs Church
